CARDINAL

Foreword

The halls have darkened, the doors are closed, the buzz of students is heard no more. Another school year has ended, but the memories of the '61-'62 school year will always remain. We, the 1962 CARDINAL staff, hope that the pictures and words contained in this '62 CARDINAL will be a constant and lasting record of our school and the year; its joys, sorrows, fun, hard work, and way of life.

The Staff

Dedication

To Mr. Elmer Yergler, our school custodian and friend, who has shown his love for people by helping us in every way possible, from cleaning up after our games and suppers, chatting with us between classes, giving us some advice every now and then, to enlivening the school with his cheerful smile, we, the SENIOR CLASS OF 1962, want to say a sincere "Thanks!" with the dedication of our '62 CARDINAL to you.

Class History

In August, 1958, our class embarked on a great new period in our lives. This is the time when we entered Cissna Park Community High School as freshmen. During our high school career, we lost four classmates, but gained seven.

Our freshman year saw many great achievements for our class. Our first project, other than initiation, was our Hula Hoop Contest. We followed up this project by a chicken supper and a bake sale. We also made some profit from our efforts to sell magazines to our parents and friends.

Sophomore year was to be a great one for us as a class. We sponsored a ham supper, sold Salt Water taffy, and, as a class, we were given the honor of serving at the Junior-Senior Prom, "Some Enchanted Evening."

Junior year gave us a chance to prove ourselves to our parents, our teachers, and our friends. We sponsored two suppers during the course of the year for our money-making projects. We also enjoyed rehearsing and presenting our very successful play, "Girl Crazy." That spring, much of our time was devoted to preparing for our prom. Finally, on May 12, we honored the Senior class at our prom, "Red Sails in the Sunset." This proved to be a year of much fun and many memories for us all.

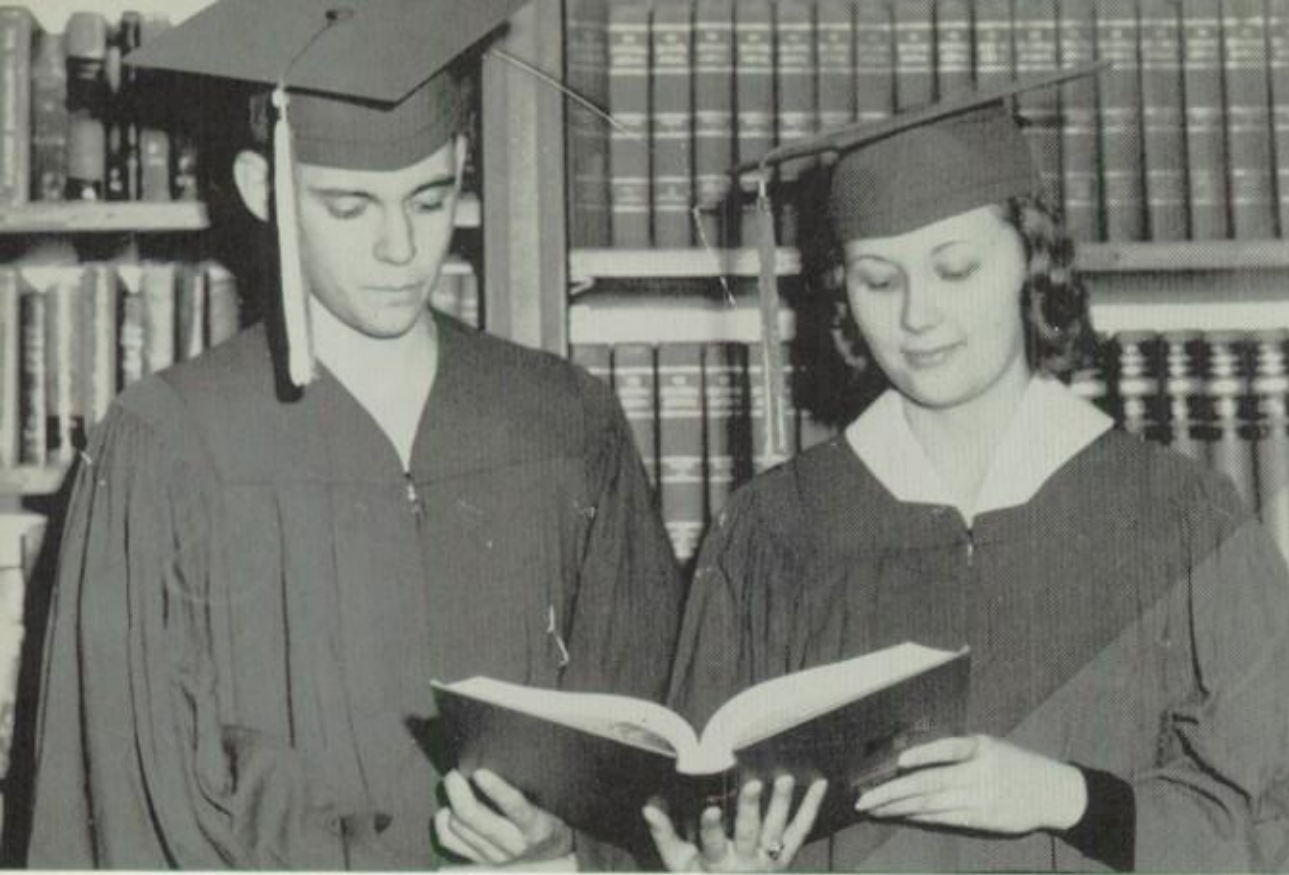

Soon the fall of 1961 rolled around and we were well on our way as seniors. To some of us, the responsibilities of being a Senior presented a great challenge. First of all, we started work on our play, "One Wild Night" which also proved successful. During the year we sponsored a car wash and two suppers to help finance the trip, our goal.

On Friday, May 11, we were guests of honor at the Jr.-Sr. Prom, "Underwater Fantasy." It was a night that will long be remembered by all.

On the following morning, May 12, twenty-six seniors and two sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Krapf, left Cissna Park by Greyhound bus at 11:30 for New York, Washington, D.C., and Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. After spending a very enjoyable week in the Eastern states, we returned to Cissna Park at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, May 18. Upon arrival, we were greeted by a rousing cheer from our fellow schoolmates and friends. This was the crowning moment for our memorable trip.

Still, there were many things for us to do. On Sunday, May 20, Baccalaureate exercises were held. And, on Friday, May 25, we reached the goal for which we had been striving for twelve years. Thirty-three seniors were presented with high school diplomas.

We cannot look back. We must face the future, whatever it may bring. All we have left of our high school days are the many happy memories that we can long cherish. High school has given many of us the chance to form lasting friendships. This should be a very precious possession, for a true friend is hard to find. These two things, friendship and memories, are about the only things we have left of our high school days. Let us not throw them to the wind, but cherish them for the remainder of our lives.

Mrs. Joyce Whitten spent considerable time the past year teaching and helping a sophomore student of CPHS who is handicapped and at home, Barbara Yergler.

Our beloved janitor, "Funny," has been kept busy keeping the dust, snow, rain, and papers from bothering us all year.

Lorna Clauss, school secretary, has showed that she is more than a mere secretary by helping all students whenever possible.

Miss Thompson, who later became Mrs. McKenzie, was a student teacher for a while in the spring. She assisted Miss Stinebring by teaching Home Economics. Here she is showing proper table setting to Linda Krumwiede and Elaine Bauer.

The junior class, perhaps the most active group besides the CARDINAL staff, had a comparatively successful year. The junior class presented the play "Henrietta the Eight" and also a beautiful prom in which the seniors were the honored guests. The unusual good cooperation of the juniors was appreciated by the senior class. Thank you and good luck in next year as taking over the helm as seniors.

The sophomores were very privileged this year in being able to share the Cardinal sponsor. This class, famous for roller skating parties, finally settled down and sponsored two worthwhile projects; the ham supper and operating the coat check.

We are thoroughly convinced this class has the makings of a great group with the leadership of their helpful sponsors. We are confident that this fine class will become great upperclassmen. Best wishes.

Forty-eight students entered Cissna Park High School as freshmen during the fall of the school year without the usual privilege of being initiated. They started saving for their senior trip by purchasing the minor projects of the upperclassmen such as: book covers, apples, taffy, etc. They ended the year by contributing little to sports, scholarships, and to the teachers' welfare, and are now almost oblivion. In all sincerity, we wish the freshman class the best of luck in the future.

Jr.-Sr. Prom

On May 11, the evening before the senior trip began, the Juniors presented, in honor of the Senior Class, their Jr.-Sr. Prom. The theme of the Prom being "Underwater Fantasy," the gym was beautifully decorated with green, blue, and silver crepe paper, 2 large murals, and a large octopus, among other marine emblems. Along with dancing and admiring the decorations, the 2 upper class presidents gave speeches and the prophecy of the departing Seniors was read. The evening was greatly enjoyed by everyone.

Two of the refreshment servers who were harbored under the octopus, Teresa Oberlander and Emery Zimmerman.

We danced to a good,
wild band.

King Bruce and Queen Anne

Remember "One Wild Night"?

On November 11, 1961, the Seniors presented their final play of their high school career. All enjoyed producing this play and watching its production.

It's more enjoyable to just sit and relax and watch those other people stumble over their lines.

"Maribelle"

THE night finally came.

"I wonder what's in this package . . ."

" . . . It was a BOMB!"

Rodney has a hard time explaining everything to Charlotte.

Was it worth it all?
Yep!

The Seniors would also like to express a sincere thanks to one who has worked and helped us throughout our four high school years - our class sponsor, Mr. Krapf.

Two seniors getting inspiration and enjoyment from the latest issue of the Parker Press.

The FFA once again put up this Christmas scene in front of the school to remind us the sacred importance of this holiday.

We were also privileged this year by receiving sets of the traveling science library books.

Yes, even old Santa was present at the Student Council sponsored Christmas dance this year.

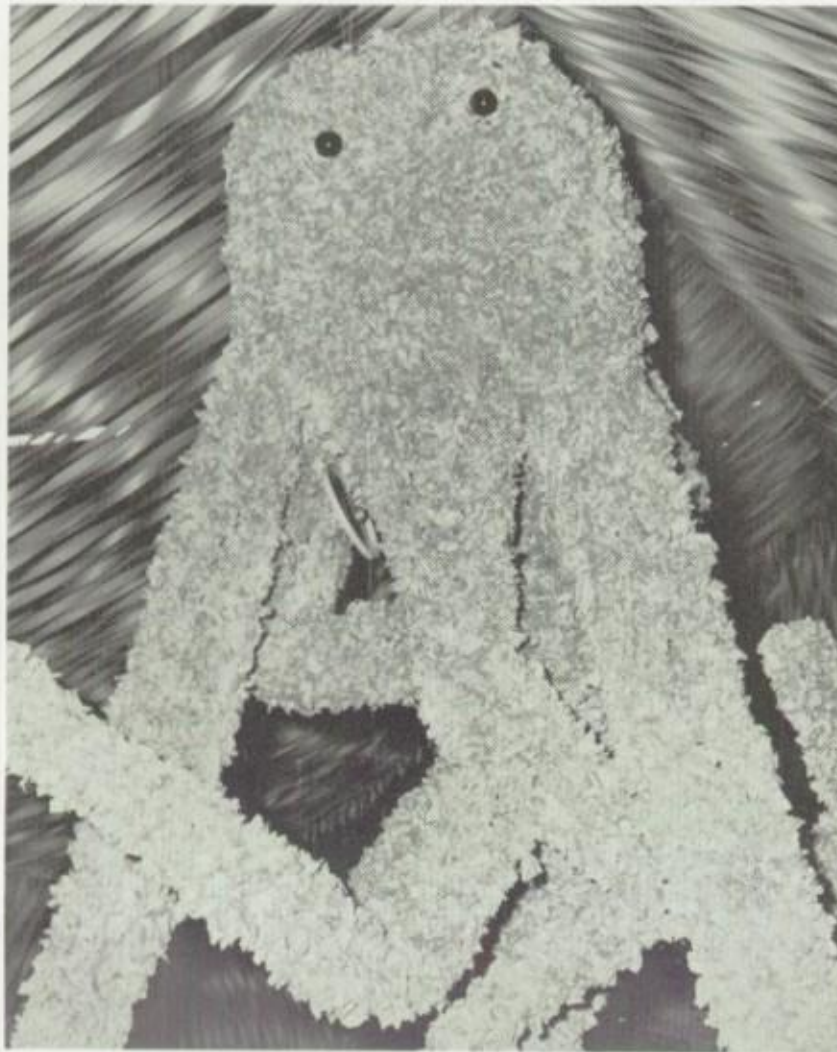

The bus trips to the basketball games will never be forgotten.

Don't just do something; stand there.

Henrietta the 8th — Jr. Play

On April 27, the Juniors presented their Junior play. Everyone enjoyed the antics of the "coke set," the abstract painting (which was last seen hanging in the coaches' room), and the moral of the play. Make up Time looked like this

Hey, let's twist!

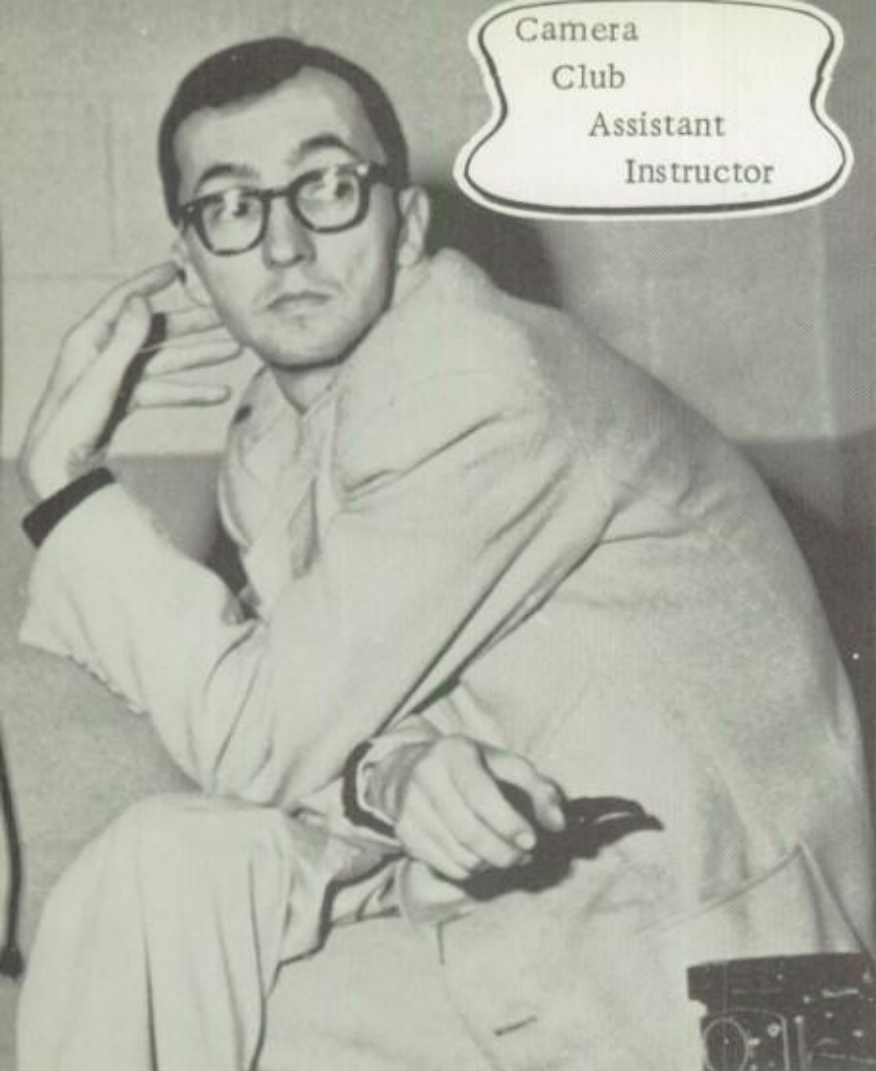

The fraudulent scheme of Annabelle Mason is finally exposed.

The curtain call marks the end.

This year many of us students were blessed with the chance to learn of and about the art of photography. With loads and loads of photographic equipment to be used, the instructor and assistant took time out of their busy schedules to give of their knowledge and abilities.

Senior Trip

One of the most looked forward to times in the life of the Seniors finally came to the Class of '62 when, on Saturday, May 12, they left by Greyhound on their trip to New York City and Washington, D.C. Encountering all sorts of difficulties, such as bus trouble, wrong hotel, etc., they all did most certainly enjoy the trip and its freedom from home and school. All Seniors of this year will remember this wonderful and exciting trip for the rest of their lives.

Mary Ann, how were all the bus rides to, in, and from the two great American cities?

Here we see the Class of 1962 in front of our nation's Capitol building on May 16, 1962.

In February, these four actors and actresses placed 3rd in the District speech contest with a play. Also, Carol Kimmel won a 2nd place in extempore speaking, and Robert Beebe a 2nd for an original oration.

The shepherd watching his flock

The first week in May was National Student Council week. Among many other things that were done that week, the student council members taught classes Wednesday, had a student council-faculty volleyball game Thursday, and a pep session for the conference track meet on Friday. Above, we see Mr. Borowski presenting the trophy for winning the volleyball game to the tri-captains of the Student Council team: B. Yergler, A. Rinkenberger, and L. Bauer.

On May 20, Bacclaureate exercises were conducted by Rev. Biehl. The following Friday the glorious and joyful seniors marched through the gym for their graduation exercise. They were somewhat astonished at how fast the time flew while they were in high school, but were rather glad this, their first corridor of life, was finished. They expectantly look forward to a rewarding future.

Class of 1962:

This yearbook will be a permanent record of an exceptional class. Your experiences have been many and varied. You have had more than your share of trials and tribulations, and have come through these experiences in a fine manner.

You have been, at times, individualistic and non-conforming. This is good. This is the true spirit of living in a democratic society.

We feel that all members of the Class of 1962 will become worthy citizens of the communities in which you may reside.

May we sincerely wish for each of you a wonderful, happy, and successful future, and a rewarding life.

Sincerely yours,

C. L. Watson
